& Dangerous Barber. A special dispatch from Marion Ind., say-Reconsty John M. Wallace had a thrilling exper sect. He had gone icto Warner's berber shop to be shaved. Mr. Warner, being ill, had, a day or two before, hired a genreal looking colored man representing himself to be a first class barber from Wayne county, Ind ass, to wirk for him a few days. The fellow conduct ed himself all right until Saturday, when he be gan to drink quite freely, and yesterday be secured some aloohol used to the shop and drank it raw. Mr. Jessie ljems, who occupied the thing very peculiar is the man's "o lons, especally when he refused to give the change back from a bill handed him by liams. Wallace got into the chair, and the fellaw, after lathering his face and getting ev sything ready for operation, opened his r z r, grasped Mr. Wallace by the throut, and explained: "I am going to our your the bat" Looking up, Mr Wattace saw that the bur ser was forming at the mouth and an insune the to the weight and applied with a drift 2.0 thought above the to the weight and applied with a drift 2.0 thought and exclaimed: "You think I won't do it, do all we observe uself it.
